Washington, June 27.—Statements of republican leaders in the house that their party had saved the people $1,500,000,000 by eliminating "democratic extravagance" from supply bills passed by the house this session, were denounced on the floor today by Representative Kitchin, democrat, North Carolina, as "masterpleces of political deception."

The former democratic house leader discussed at some length a statement given out last week by Republican Leader Mondell and declared it "was rich in false impressions, wrong inferences, and bald mistatements of fact."

"But, it accomplished its purpose," he said. "The republican press picked it up and made great capital of it, spreading the false statement of republican economy and retrenchment across the front pages in bold headlines.

"During the last session, the democratic house passed every needed war measure and public supply bill. Their enactment was not completed. But why? Their defeat was caused solely by the detestable, indecent filibuster matic by the republicans in the senate during the closing days of the session.
